"Today, when America's way of life is threatened, the two most important aims of the youth and to build morale," Dr. Gerald D. Whitney, associate superintendent of Pittsburgh schools, told Senior high school's 77th commencement audience last night in the packed Cathedral auditorium.

Addressing 441 seniors—the largest single senior group ever to graduate—and probably the biggest crowd ever to witness a commencement, the noted Pittsburgh educator said, speaking on "Education and National Defense," said:

"In totalitarian countries abroad, crafty dictators have taken hold of the youth and have instilled in them an almost fanatical spirit to dominate and despoil peaceful neighbors. They have done this through the medium of education. They have taught youth what to think, not how to think. They have scoffed at religion. In America we teach pupils how to think and how to live together peacefully, co-operatively and democratically.

Training for Defense

"Your industrial department which teaches the skills and knowledge of the machinist, the electrician, the welder and all of the other skilled workmen, is a good evidence of that. All over America, the secondary schools are answering the call for training in defense industries."

Dr. Whitney spoke at great length of vocational training in the public schools, and called its teaching "important." In Pittsburgh the vocational school work falls under his direction.

Presiding over the impressive program was Robert Earl Carr, president.

Twin girls were also born to Mr. and Mrs. Marion Fabian, of Taylor street, Wednesday.

Approximately 5,300 lawnmowers, more or less, were in operation in New Castle and vicinity last night, as residents tackled the job of mowing lawns after the heavy rains of several days. Most lawns now have a most appealing appearance.

Ambassador Winant Discusses Situation In Britain With Congressmen

PEOPLE ARE UNITED BEHIND CHURCHILL

Picture Not As Gloomy As Some Of Congressmen Had Anticipated

By ROBERT A. MCGILL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 7.—John G. Winant, the American ambassador to Britain, has informed congressional leaders that England's chances of winning the war are still favorable, and that he sees no immediate necessity for United States intervention if this country intensifies its present aid program, it was learned today.

Winant, who conferred with the congressional leaders and Vice President Wallace for three hours in the latter's office, was reported to have denied that he brought any Nazi or British peace proposals when he returned from London to report to President Roosevelt.

Not As Gloomy A Picture
The congressional leaders, emerging from the conference, agreed wholeheartedly with a spokesman of the group who said "it was not as gloomy a picture as I thought it would be."

Those who attended the conference at the invitation of Wallace were Sens. George (D) Ga. Byrnes (D) S. C., Connally (D) Texas, and Hill (D) Ala.

Winant was reported to have based his assertion that Great Britain can defeat Germany without United States participation in the (Continued On Page Two)

FARMERS OF STATE Mostly Opposed To Fixing Wheat Quotas

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, June 7.—Complete returns showed today that nearly three out of five Pennsylvania farmers who voted in the national wheat referendum May 31 opposed the fixing of wheat marketing quotas.

Returns indicated that 3,703 farmers voted against the quota, while 2,648 favored it. Officials of the state agriculture conservation program said, approximately 18,000 farmers were eligible to cast ballots.

Adoption of nation-wide quotas was assured, however, by the vote of farmers in heavy wheat-producing states of the Middle West, it was said.

Returns from some of this state's wheat-producing counties were: Berks 172 for, 109 against; York 313 for, 457 against; Fulton 28 for, 206 against; Franklin 291 for, 457 against; and Adams 107 for, 109 against.

Japan Hints Force May Be Used Against Dutch East Indies

(International News Service)
TOKYO, June 7.—Trade negotiations between the Netherlands East Indies and Japan have broken down, the Japanese press reported tonight amid hints that force might be used soon against the rich islands.

The authoritative newspaper Nichi Nichi said ominously that Japan's next step will be announced tomorrow following a meeting between Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka and army and navy representatives.

The latest Japanese trade formula—rejected by the Dutch—"represented Japan's maximum concessions," said Nichi Nichi, adding:

"Japan should act swiftly, in order to awaken the Dutch Indies to the mistake they made in placing their reliance on the United States and Britain."

(The Dutch East Indies, in a reply to the "final" Japanese trade proposals, refused to supply goods to Japan which might be relayed to Germany.)

Kenichi Yoshizawa, head of the Japanese trade delegation in Batavia, again was reported ready to leave.

"Ever since Yoshizawa inaugurated his talks six months ago," the newspaper Asahi said, "Netherlands East Indies authorities failed to demonstrate any real desire to come to terms."

"Their tactics all along were characterized by international prolongation of the negotiations, because of American and British influence."

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—Heeding the demand of President Roosevelt, a spokesman for Richard T. Frankenstein, head of the CIO-UAW Aviation Division, predicted today the North American Aviation plant strikers will return to their jobs Monday.

Refusing to be directly quoted, he indicated there would be a settlement of the strike issues.

By JACK VINCENT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 7.—In his first drastic move since proclaiming an unlimited emergency, President Roosevelt today threatened to have the army take over the strike-bound, North American Aviation, Corp., plant at Inglewood, Calif., unless striking CIO workers return to the job by Monday.

At the same time, Mr. Roosevelt dispatched a telegraphic summons to Harvey W. Brown, one of the A. F. of L. leaders in the strike tying up San Francisco shipyards, to come to Washington for a conference, and, through a White House spokesman, let it be known that he "does not countenance" the strike of 20,000 CIO lumber workers in the northwest.

Mr. Roosevelt's position on the three Pacific coast disputes was disclosed by the White House.

British Convoy Is Under Attack

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LONDON, June 7.—German bombers and long-range "Big Berthas" on the French coast unleashed a heavy attack early today against a large British shipping convoy passing through the Straits of Dover.

The aerial assault and artillery barrage against the ships lasted several hours. It occurred after R. A. F. planes and Nazi bombers had traded blows during the night.

Residents of the southeast coast region were awakened by heavy explosions when the German artillery battery at Boulogne began sending over salvos of two shells each in quick succession.

Berlin Declares That Any Protest On Bombing Lacks Justification

CLAIM HEAVY DAMAGE DONE

(International News Service)
BERLIN, June 7.—Without even waiting for the note, Germany today sharply rejected the anticipated Egyptian protest over Wednesday night's bombing of Alexandria.
Such a protest lacks justification, the Germans argue, since British troops and warships have been using Alexandria as a base for operations.
The Germans are prepared, in their forthcoming formal rejection, to point out also that the Luftwaffe confined its attack to war-important targets.
Describing the Alexandria raid, an eye-witness today said:
"Our bombs scored direct hits on huge oil stores and warehouses from which the British fleet is supplied. Gigantic flame sheets shot up into the sky and the entire waterfront was ablaze."
"British anti-aircraft batteries were unable to find their targets owing to the thick smoke."
"On circling the harbor, we noticed that big dockyards, arsenals, and oil tanks had been destroyed."

SAYS ENGLAND'S VICTORY CHANCES STILL FAVORABLE

war on the following conclusions of the British:

1. That the president's neutrality patrol is becoming effective, and is narrowing the danger areas to shipping in the Atlantic.
2. That sinkings of merchant ships carrying American supplies to Britain, although still high, have leveled off in the last few weeks.
3. That the British believe they have air superiority over the channel and "invasion" points.
4. That they can hold the Suez Canal, and the Mediterranean, and that they have large, well equipped forces in Africa and Egypt capable of defeating Nazi invasion units.

Position Not Hopeless

Winant, it was said, emphasized during the conference that he was not painting an "optimistic" picture of England's position. The senators, however, reported that there was nothing said which would indicate that her present position is hopeless. They said he had no recommendation for additional legislation for aid to Britain.

One of the senators said he gained the impression from Winant that it is highly probable that the Vichy government of France will deliver some of the French naval units to Hitler. Winant said, however, that as individuals the conquered people of France "themselves are loath to have their government cooperate with Germany, but that there is little else they can do under the circumstances."

Winant belittled a newspaper story from London to the effect that the British defeat in Greece and Crete might mean the overthrow of Prime Minister Churchill.

The ambassador said that the British people seem to be more united than ever behind Churchill, and that they expect he and his government will pull them through to victory. He added that the people of the conquered European countries are ready to give their support to Britain at the first opportunity, and that they would hate to see Churchill replaced.

was issued in the hope of drawing an official reply from London which would give French authorities valuable information.
Nazis Active
Meanwhile, the Nazis were reported increasingly active in the entire near eastern theater.

Reports from Ankara said eight German "pocket submarines"—small but deadly undersea craft—have been seen in the harbor of Beirut during the past week.

Similarly it was reported that the Germans have mined the waters off the British-owned eastern Mediterranean island of Cyprus, using both planes and submarines for this task.

These activities followed yesterday's official revelation that Italian as well as German planes are now based at Syrian airdromes. R. A. F. headquarters in the middle east announced that British planes had bombed Italian aircraft at the Syrian airfield at Aleppo.

Reliable Troops

Dispatches from Jerusalem said that Gen. Henri Dentz, French high commissioner for Syria, had renewed his appeals to Vichy for "reliable troops," and had asked that if necessary Vichy send him German troops to defend the French-mandated territory. Dentz was stated to have informed the Vichy government that he was especially suspicious of the French Air Corps and anti-aircraft gunners under his command.

The London Daily Express reported from Cairo that huge German troop carrying planes and supply aircraft, each equipped to carry many tons of guns and water, gasoline and food, were arriving daily in Syria.

Planes Carry Artillery
In addition to a dozen men each, the Express said, these specially constructed planes are capable of carrying 16-pound artillery pieces as well as light armored cars and tanks, motorcycles and other mechanized war equipment.

The paper said that with 500 such planes each making two trips daily, the Germans easily could transport an entire air-borne division from the Italian island of Rhodes to Syria within a week.

Meanwhile, strengthening the British forces in the middle east, troops from the union of South Africa joined the British units in Egypt. Some of them made the 3,000-mile trip by truck while others came by sea, in the largest shipping convoy ever to leave South African shores.

Report U. S. Will Keep Supply Line Open To E. Indies

Assert Line Will Be Kept Open "At Any Cost"—Rubber Is Needed

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 7.—High defense officials have told congress that the United States will keep its supply line from the Dutch East Indies open "at any cost." International News Service learned today.

The information has been given members of a house military affairs subcommittee which is investigating the shortage of critical materials in this country.
The same witnesses told members in secret hearings that due to the growing shortage of rubber, OPM may soon ration the use of automobile tires among American motorists.

It is primarily because of the need for rubber, members of the group said, that this country is determined to let nothing interfere with shipments from the East Indies.

and obtained approval of his cabinet before the announcement today.

Papers and documents drawn up for him as commander-in-chief in time of unlimited emergency are awaiting his signature.

Immediately following the cabinet meeting yesterday, however, Mr. Roosevelt was advised that the striking CIO workers would hold a mass meeting tomorrow night and that "there was real hope they themselves will decide to end the strike and return to work Monday."

In view of this, the president decided to withhold seizure of the plant, take a week-end cruise aboard the White House yacht, Potomac, and return to Washington Sunday night or Monday to let in of the workers' decision.

Work Must Not Be Interrupted
Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early, in making the announcement, especially requested that the disclosure not be handled as a threat or "big stick" move by the president.

Early added:
"But he is firm in his decision that the defense work in this plant must not longer be interrupted. Planes are badly needed. There is an actual shortage of them and work can no longer be delayed."

At the same time, Early let it be known that while President Roosevelt does not definitely do not condone the strike of lumbermen in the northwest, the government is not planning any action in that direction at present because there is no real shortage of lumber at the moment.

"If the strike continues (in the lumber industry), production in other areas will take care of the situation," Early said, quickly adding "don't take that as meaning the president countenances the strike in the northwest lumber industry."

For Showdown
Also moving rapidly for a showdown with labor, President Roosevelt dispatched a telegram to Harvey W. Brown, head of the A. F. of L. International Machinists union, requesting him to be in Washington Monday for a conference over the prolonged strike in the San Francisco shipyards, where all other trades but the machinists have gone back to work.

Early was asked in the event it became necessary for the army to take over operation of the North American plant at Inglewood, whether plans had been worked out for a resumption of work.

"The army would give the workers the right to go to work," the presidential secretary said. "I don't think the army would permit picket lines to prevent them."

Disclosure that Mr. Roosevelt was considering the step was made officially earlier today by Herbert Hoover, an aide to Sidney Hillman, associate OPM director.

Army In Control

WASHINGTON, June 7.—War department spokesmen announced today that if the government takes over the North American plant at Inglewood, Cal., an army officer will assume control of the plant and all workers will be protected against molestation from strikers.

The department hopes that the majority of the plant workers will return to work voluntarily and orders have gone forward to California garbions to be ready to surround the plant with troops to insure returning employees against any violence.

Exact details of how the department plans to operate the plant were not disclosed, but it was indicated by officials that federal troops would guard all entrances and keep away pickets, demonstrators, and strikers.

Rev. Thomas Francis

Death removed a beloved citizen of New Castle Friday afternoon, June 6, when Rev. Thomas Francis, of 14 Craig street, died in his home at 2 p. m. He had been in ill health for some time and illness which in the past few weeks developed to the critical stage.

Rev. Francis was born in Morristown, South Wales, November 1, 1861, the son of Thomas and Jane Francis. In 1896 he came to the United States with his family, settling in Gas City, Indiana, where he was employed in the tin mill. In 1906 he came to New Castle and had resided here continuously since.

Upon coming to New Castle he entered the employ of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company in the Shenango mill, retiring in 1926. His retirement as a tin worker did not mean the end of his active life.

For many years he had been a local minister in the Methodist Episcopal church and in 1928 was fully ordained as a minister. Up until a few years ago he filled pulpits in the Erie conference and for seven years was the pastor of the Euclid Avenue church.

Rev. Francis was a Godly man. The Christian religion to him was a personal thing, a living, vital force which he exemplified in his daily work. It served him and he served it in the mill, in his home as well as in the church. Failing health forced him to give up the active duties of a minister several years ago.

Until the Grace M. E. church was merged with the Epworth church, Rev. Francis was one of the leaders in it from the time he came to New Castle. In late years he had been a member of the First Methodist church.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the First Methodist church with Rev. M. V. McLean officiating. Interment will be in the Oak Park cemetery. From 7 to 10 o'clock tonight the family will receive friends at the home at 14 Craig street and the body will be in the auditorium of First church Sunday afternoon from 3 o'clock.

Surviving Rev. Francis are his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Francis, three sons, Roger E. Francis, of New Castle, Dr. Thomas Francis, of New York City, and Dr. Herbert C. Francis, of Nashville, Tenn., and two daughters, Mrs. C. Roy Allen and Mrs. Thomas B. Lockwood, the latter of Buffalo, N. Y. Nine grand-nieces survive, Richard Francis, Mrs. John Eckleberger, Marjorie and Thomas Allen, of New Castle, Annette and Edgar McGuire, of Buffalo, N. Y., Mary Jane and Thomas Francis, of New York City, and George Francis, of Nashville, Tenn. One great grandchild survives him, James Eckleberger, of New Castle.

Mrs. Cameron was born in New Castle on April 3, 1868, daughter of Maurice and Sarah Johnson, and had spent all her life in this city.

WHAT ABOUT WILY JOE?

WITH epithets being hurled back and forth across the Atlantic, with historic battles fought in the North Atlantic and on the Island of Crete, one important personage seems to have been forgotten temporarily. That person is wily Joe Stalin. Just what Stalin has in mind is a mystery. One might amend this by saying that what Stalin has "immediately" in mind is a mystery.

There is no question about Stalin's long term objective so far as this war is concerned. He manipulated diplomatically around Poland to get the war started. Since it began he has been doing everything possible in an underhand way to keep it going as long as possible so that capitalism would become exhausted and Communism might march in to take over. Only the other day, Pravda, official Moscow newspaper, stated gloatingly that "the second imperialistic war is ravaging agriculture and ruining peasants and workers throughout the greater part of the capitalist world."

The reds now regard the United States as the biggest capitalist barrier to Communist world domination. That is why they completed a non-aggression pact with Japan, rendering the Japs free to fulfill their obligation to the axis by attacking Uncle Sam if the United States should enter the great war. These were the same diplomatic tactics pursued by Stalin in Poland at the outset of the war.

But Russia has some immediate as well as some long-term objectives. What these may be are anybody's guess. That something important is in the offing is indicated by the fact that for the first time in his career Stalin has taken personal charge of Russia's foreign policies without an intermediary.

Some of these days Stalin will act. What he will do nobody knows. Many believe he is cooking up a deal with Hitler to seize Persia and put himself next door to British-held India. This would be in line with his well known policy of acquiring territory without having to fight for it. Other so-called "experts" declare that Stalin is mortally afraid of Hitler and will only go so far as absolutely necessary in placating him. They predict that the first time the German military machine is stalled Stalin will stab Hitler in the back.

In this Eastern European diplomatic game nobody knows what is going to happen. One man's guess is as good as another's. But certainly Stalin is playing a lone-wolf game for the purpose of extending Communism all over the world. For that reason it will pay us in America to watch our step against possible Communist sabotage.

TEXTILES IN DEFENSE

While most publicity about military purchases centers in metals, it is noteworthy that textiles are carrying quite a load in supplying clothing for the Army and the Navy. Woolen and cotton textile mills from the largest to the smallest are laboring to complete contracts. One large woolen mill has on its books more uncompleted contracts than the total business it transacted in 1939.

In the woolen industry between 40 and 50 per cent of all available production facilities are engaged in filling orders for the government. Raw wool from South America, South Africa, and Australia is being shipped to the United States in huge quantities to add to domestic supplies.

About 10 per cent of the cotton textile industry is devoted to production for the armed forces. This 10 per cent will turn out approximately 1,000,000,000 square yards of cloth, into which will go more than a million bales of cotton. American cotton consumption is now 10,000,000,000 bales a year, which is a record.

Rayon is not greatly affected by the defense program, except as the rayon industry steps up production as a substitute for other textiles. Rayon accounts for 10 per cent of total domestic fiber consumption. Nylon, new substitute for silk, is increasing production so rapidly that silk consumption in the United States is now the lowest in twenty years.

JUNE A DELIGHT

Well started in June, we in these latitudes in the Western Hemisphere are in the blush of the lush time of the year. There is work to be done, right here and now, and there is great joy in the doing, as we aid and assist nature to keep her in trim as needs be. The sun tries the earth to see if we are keeping it in tune; and wherever we look or listen with the poet, we hear life murmur and see it glisten.

We are well on our way to take the springboard which is the first day of summer, not many weeks away. The crocuses and tulips and lilacs and fruit blossoms already have had their little day, and now the earth is partly hidden by the glory of poppies and peonies and roses. On the trees are rubins as big as peas which one day soon will weigh down the branches with cherries and apples and pears and peaches, and the open fields are sprinkled with a new green.

What, indeed, is so rare as a day in June! Every twenty-four hours tells the story of nature's willingness to respond to man's labor, of promise and performance, of the imminent season of vacation from toil which in northern climes is a seasonal version of the South's mid-afternoon siesta, as June heralds the way to the July-August peak-time for escape into the outdoors.

Much of the world is in sore straits, as every American has become increasingly aware, but nothing is to be gained by being jittery about that. We shall meet the issues, but we must not refuse to listen to the lure of glorious summer nor to enjoy its delights while we may.

Words Of Wisdom

This is what I call the American idea of freedom—a government of all the people, by all the people, for all the people; of course, a government of the principles of eternal justice—the unchanging law of God.—Theodore Parker.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph.D.

TEACHING CHILD "NO" IMPORTANT

Louis Bard is four years old. He has never learned the meaning of NO. He has a patient mother and a sympathetic father.

From the time when he could toddle, he ran freely into the street and across it, when some adult was not near him. He had done much damage to the furniture at home. The sight of him with his approaching parents as guests put terror into the hearts of the hosts. Sometimes the parents were able to keep Louis engaged in activities which deterred him from destroying things; but unless they were very vigilant he might soon be exploring the whole house, appropriating what he pleased; or he might escape to wander several blocks away.

Parent Seemed a Bully

At home his father and mother tried to keep him from dangerous and destructive activities, solely by positive suggestion, by reasoning which usually became an argument followed finally by a snappy, shrill and shriller NO. In case such shouting failed, Louis Bard was pulled away or held by what seemed to him a big bully—the same two kind parents who believed he had been a brute to spank the child and teach him the meaning of NO.

Yet Louis heard NO many times a day, often in the same single situation. Its repetitions were successively more rasping and more loud. Mother Bard was almost worn out with reasoning with him, explaining to him, arguing with him, exhorting him, and forbidding him. All the while she was annoyed at him and he at her.

An Ill Child

A few months ago Louis Bard was seized with scarlet fever, a light case. He was not ill enough to want to lie down. But the doctor said, "In order to protect this child's heart, he must keep entirely off his feet for three weeks."

Mother Bard explained to Louis, coaxed, and finally said, "You must." She was able to keep him down most of the time. When, however, on the second day, a fire engine passed the house, he was standing by the window before she realized what had happened. By the end of the week he was up on his feet twenty times a day. The worried mother quarantined with him was almost beside herself. Being intelligent, she knew the dangers he was facing.

May Be Invalid for Life

What the lad's health condition will be by and by only time will tell. He may be an invalid for life because his parents believed that he never should be spanked. Wise parents do the necessary spanking while the child is well and little.

My fellow parents: Begin with the child as soon as he begins locomotion, to teach him, with the good old-fashioned spank thoughtfully planned and applied, the meaning of NO. Then he will be trained for later emergencies when the mere utterance of this monosyllable might save his life.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. My baby, 18 months of age, hits me back when I spank him. A. He thinks you are fooling. Next time you spank him, make it sting. After one or two such applications he will understand it is not a game. Limit the spanking to just one or two things he must never do which you and the other parent have agreed upon and see that he never can do that thing without getting instant spanking.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE — Philip F. La Follette, ex-governor of Wisconsin, charges that American defense has been conducted like a combination of a W. P. A. and a witch-hunt: "This country and its people are essentially sound. Once our house is in order our vast resources and enormous energy can out-compete, out-think, out-work, out-lead, and, if need be, out-fight any combination in the world."

ALBANY, N. Y. — Attorney General Robert H. Jackson believes America has two choices if England is defeated: "Our alternative to complete preparedness would be to live meanly as well as precariously, like a bug in a bottle."

PITTSBURGH — Senator Burton K. Wheeler urges analysis of the likely outcome of the war: "The American people are willing to stake their all on an even bet, but they do not want to buy a bankrupt concern. They do not want to back a loser; they want an even opportunity."

NEW YORK — Archduke Otto of Hapsburg believes peace with Hitler would be nothing more than an armed truce for a year or two: "Then the war would resume, and probably under less favorable conditions than at present. All the odds would be in Hitler's favor."

Question: I was married recently, receiving many gifts. May I exchange one or two which are duplicates?—Bride.

Answer: If the donors are very great friends or relatives of yours who will give you such permission after you explain your predicament, you may exchange them. Some thoughtful people send a note along with their gifts telling the bride it may be exchanged if she has a duplicate of it. Of course, gifts that are marked with the bride's initials are not returnable. Brides should not make a habit of exchanging gifts nor should they do so merely because they are at odds with a donor's taste.

Question: Where should the two flower girls and one page walk in my wedding procession and recessional?—B. B.

Answer: The flower girls should walk behind the maid-of-honor and just in front of the bride in the procession. The page should walk behind her in both the procession and the recessional to hold up her train. In the recessional, the flower girls usually precede the bride and groom to strew flowers in their path, as they go down the aisle.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1941 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

We Hoosiers always liked the late and great Tom Marshall and still have a feeling that things in general would be better if he were living today. When he said, "What this country needs is a good five-cent cigar," he probably had in mind not only the quality of the cigar, but of the staying power and wide distribution of nickels. We have improved the quality, all right, but what with taxes and this and that, the nickel just won't stay put and we are right back where we were.

When Tom Marshall tossed off the above aphorism, we were smoking about 8,500,000,000 cigars a year. Last year the total was only 5,857,000,000. But Mr. Marshall's sound appraisal of our public demand is revealed by the fact that of this 1940 consumption, 4,780,000,000 sold for five cents or less and of these about half were two-for-fives. In 1920, the total sale in the five cents or less range was only 2,042,000,000. So all we have to do to keep on gaining is to peg that nickel, but that gets us into the almost metaphysical domain of price economics. We make more and better things, of all kinds, but how to get them spread out is something else again.

Worrying about that cigar-smoker's nickel, dealers are withdrawing large quantities of cigars from government-bonded warehouses. As the figures rise steadily during the last few months they have sometimes mistakenly been put down as a rapid gain in popular consumption. That's all wrong, the insiders tell you now. The withdrawals are prompted by the fear of probable double taxes, and the hope that the government will miss a bet in slapping an excise tax before the cigars reach the ultimate consumer.

They don't seem very optimistic, but they are trying it out anyway. A doubled tax would add 4-10 of a cent to the cost of a five-cent cigar, and the makers of the better brands say they haven't that much leeway. It would be either lowering the quantity or upping the price. On the whole, the trade is pretty gloomy about the matter, but the cigars are of good quality and price. However, cigars have always had a trend more to human than to statistical interest. With Father's Day approaching, it is interesting to note that back in the days of Clarence Day's father, the cigar tokened boldness, expansiveness and assurance. The cigar has kept that original association, in contrast to cigarettes and pipes. In that earlier day, cigarette smoking was for low and dissolute persons, and a family was forever disgraced if its scion as caught out behind the barn, rolling a cube of sourdough pipe. Pipes were for the horny-handed citizenry, cancutters in Puck and Judge as they broke rocks on the street or delved in the sewer. Hollywood faithfully and knowingly records the change. A cigarette no longer is a "coffin nail" or the hallmark of wickedness, and the late Lucy Page Gaston of Chicago would be whirling in her grave if she knew how many nice girls smoke them. The pipe in the movies, is for philosophers and tweedies, homespun heroes denoting principally meditation and tolerance along with rumpled hair and simple virtues.

The cigar, in its traditional role, is for the up-and-coming citizen, with braid on his morning coat, as he savagely bites off the end of a four-bit perfecto and corners this or that, or short-arms the villainous crowd, not necessarily with villainous intent. All in all, the cigar seems to stand for vitality and power, from the days of General Grant on. The elder Morgan never tolled a fresh million into his orbit without lighting a cigar.

Coming down to today, we have Mayor La Guardia, Thomas J. Watson, the business machines magnate, William Knudsen and a great array of top-bracket financiers, industrialists and politicians who thus keep the home fires burning. This is also observable in the comparably red-blooded ranks of the hard rock men, ship-builders, tunnel-diggers and the like. They are all much given to cigar smoking. The farmers, too, are a tough breed and they, as a class, go for cigars probably more than any other American group. There is one two-for-five brand which for years has been almost a prairie fire out in the corn belt.

The World and the Mud Puddles

JUST COMMENSING.

At this time of the year we envy the boys and girls who are being graduated.

Graduated! Meaning that they have passed through the pleasant commencement exercises that introduce them to a part of life they find just as challenging, and much more interesting (because much more anxious) than their years dominated by a curriculum.

Commencement! They've majored on Edmund Spenser, and Dante Alighieri, and Tennyson, and Ralph Waldo Emerson, not to mention both of the Huxleys, and a great deal of Bunsen-baum, and a little bit of Einstein.

They are through, so they are starting. The commencement exercises are over, so now they are commencing. Commencing what?

Well, a lot of the boys are going into the Army, whether as kids with minor commissioned rating or as rookies, matters not at all. They are all on a parity.

And the girls? Well, we don't profess to know a lot about girls. But we dare say they are just as good as their mothers.

We've looked at a lot of them, without being too nosy, and we think that they are noble girls who will prove to be grand wives and mothers.

Having observed as carefully and cautiously as might be, we are of the opinion that there isn't a girl within our sphere of Scotland-Yard snooping who is going to let her graduating honors interfere seriously with her approach to the washing of a diaper.

"The Faerie Queen?" Sure, Spenser did a fine poem. And your little girl may read a splendid paper about it at the commencement exercises. But a year from now, her commencement exercises will have to do with soft woolen covers, a bottle formula, if she cannot do her own God-blessed nursing.

The boy? Yes, we come back to the boy.

He's going into the Army, or the Navy. What else is there today? Don't get fussed if he insists on marrying that fine girl before he answers the draft call. Life is like that.

This is commencement time. So the kids are being graduated—to carry on where we (a lot of old stuffs) are unshowering our packs. Our commencement time was long ago; we are practically finished.

This is our world, to be sure; we made it for those who follow. But we can't do better for their kinds than we did for them?

Reduction Is Made In June 11-20 Quota Of State Selectees

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, June 7.—Gov. Arthur H. James said today that 3,495 selectees would be needed from the state's 422 local draft boards for induction between June 11 and 20, rather than 5,349 previously requisitioned.

The corrected requisition called for 3,168 white men and 327 negroes. The change was made necessary because army examination stations were closed over the Memorial Day week-end and it was not possible to complete final physical examination of selectees on schedule.

The village of Princeton in Slippery Rock township looks eagerly forward to the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of its founding on July 4.

The day will be a gala one for the Princeton district folk—with oldtimers home for the day—with combine their usual Independence day observance with the anniversary program.

Scott Kildoo, prominent Princeton resident, is piloting preparations. He requested those with information on early Princeton history to contact him.

Said Kildoo: "We're going to make this celebration worthwhile. Anybody who knows anything about Princeton should get in touch with us."

Class Of 441 Members Of Senior High School Is Graduated Last Night

dent of the graduating class. He performed his difficult platform assignment like a veteran.

Marching into its reserved section on the main floor in traditional commencement cap and gown, the huge class seemed to pass without end—and when it filed out again, to receive diplomas at the close, it took another long period of marching.

The seniors moved in to the "Triumphal March from Aida," played by the brightly uniformed senior high school band massed behind speakers on the stage.

Program Opens

A hush fell over the hall as the last of the 441 reached his place and Rev. D. J. Blasdel, pastor of Mahoning Methodist church, went forward to offer the invocation.

A cornet solo, played by one of the best cornetists ever to study at senior high school, and a winner of state and national competitions, then thrilled the audience. Playing David Cramer, and his selection was "From the Shores of the Mighty Pacific," by Clarke. His piano accompanist was Edwin Lewis, organist at First Methodist church.

Dr. Whitney, next introduced by Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, then delivered his commencement address.

When he finished, Chairman Carr one by one introduced the representatives of local business, civic and fraternal organizations who were with the speakers on the platform to present the six outstanding graduation awards.

"Best Class"

With the presentation over, Superintendent Green then spoke briefly. He said he and the graduates had conspired at their recent dinner-dance to have him tell the fathers and mothers on commencement night that the June '41 class "is the best ever to be graduated from senior high school." And he did.

But in addition, he praised the seniors, too. And to their parents he addressed the thanks of the school administrators.

President C. Leroy Shira of the board of education next acknowledged an introduction and, after brief remarks to the class and audience, took his place to hand out the high stack of diplomas.

William A. Margraf, head of senior high's science department, and right-hand man to the board president at all diploma ceremonies, was in his usual place.

Rev. Blasdel's benediction closed the program, and then the band played an exit march, "March Celebre."

Commencement awards given were:

Prize offered by the New Castle News for general excellence in English during the high school course—won by Jean Cameron and presented by Fred L. Renz, president of The News company.

Prize offered by Bausch & Lomb Optical Co., Rochester, N. Y., for the greatest progress in science and mathematics—won by Philip Louer, and presented by William A. Margraf, head of the high school's science department.

Miss Perry, who closed a long principalship in local schools about a year ago, was given a hearty ovation by the audience during the exercises when Superintendent Green introduced her.

Dr. Dafoe's Column

On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

MILK MADE MORE PERFECT FOOD BY NEW FORTIFICATION WITH VITAMIN D

Though cow's milk is generally regarded as an almost perfect food for humans, it is lacking in some vital elements. One is Vitamin D. Normally, this vitamin is found in milk, but always in small quantities.

This vitamin isn't normally found in sufficient amounts for the human's daily health requirements, in anything except sunlight and certain fish oils. So scientists have been carrying on extensive researches to find an easy way of adding Vitamin D to milk to make it a more perfect food.

Of course, in summertime most of us get so much sunlight that we don't need to worry about Vitamin D. But in fall and winter the ultra violet rays of the sun are so diminished in intensity that sunlight carries very little vitamin.

The researchers have had success in their work and have developed several processes whereby milk can be fortified by Vitamin D. One method is to run the fresh milk through shallow pans under a strong violet ray irradiator. This leaves a deposit of Vitamin D up to 135 units per quart.

Experiments in controlled feedings have shown that this irradiated milk alone provides enough vitamin to prevent rickets in the normal body. However, this is so close to the minimum that I wouldn't advise all to depend upon it entirely. To be on the safe side, some additional amounts of cod liver oil should be given growing children.

Skin Irritations

Sunburn and Windburn yield quickly to soothing Antiseptic San-Cura Ointment. Minor cuts, burns and bruises need its antiseptic protection, its finer first aid. San-Cura is also famous for rectal irritations. 35c and 60c at all drug stores.

The milk loses nothing in the irradiation process while gaining an extra supply of Vitamin D. The result is that if you are feeding irradiated milk to children, you can reduce the amount of cod liver oil your child is given. This makes it advisable if the child happens to be one of those who hates the stuff.

Another means of making irradiated milk is to place small amounts of highly concentrated cod liver oil in it. Still another is to feed the cows a diet in which there is a lot of the vitamin.

Graduate 99 At Union High

John Guild Nesbitt, Grove City College Instructor Is Principal Speaker

CAPACITY CROWD ATTENDS PROGRAM

Seated on the school stage, 99 seniors attired in caps and gowns of black and white looked out upon an overflow crowd that packed into Union Township High school auditorium Friday evening for the commencement program.

John Guild Nesbitt, instructor at Grove City college, world traveler and news commentator, in presenting the commencement address threw out a challenge to the students to go forth from there and do their share to create national unity, a unity that will aid to spur America ahead in its national defense drive.

Mr. Nesbitt just recently returned from Europe and being quite familiar with conditions as they exist there, worked many interesting incidents into his talk. Closing the address, Mr. Nesbitt asked the students to rise while he delivered a charge to the seniors.

Rev. James Cousins, pastor of Wesley Methodist church, delivered the invocation and benediction for the program. Music was furnished by the high school orchestra under the direction of Richard M. Patterson, supervisor of music.

Two excellent addresses were given by the outstanding students of the class. Margaret Thomson, high honor student in the academic course, spoke on the theme, "Act Well Your Part." Bernard Kiehl, high honor student in the commercial department, used the theme, "The World of Today and Tomorrow," for his address.

Jay G. Rudolph, supervising principal of the school presented diplomas to the graduates at the close of the program.

Mother Of Local Resident Is Dead

Mrs. Coy Cole, of Long avenue, has received word of her mother's death, Mrs. Pearl Gaston Beatty, aged 70 years, of Chowchilla, Calif. Mrs. Beatty was a former resident of this city until 17 years ago when she went to California.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. C. Cole, of this city, and Mrs. Fay Kadow, of California.

Humor needs a label. One man chuckles over a joke, while another, not knowing it is supposed to be funny, gets mad enough to fight.

Where is that "Yankee inventiveness"? We'll get nowhere by tooling up to produce the weapons that others used last year.

Dear Brother Lion:
The meeting next Tuesday will be with the ladies at a picnic at 6 p. m. at Lakewood Beach. Rain or shine we will eat under cover.

Following the picnic we will hold a brief business meeting during which the ballots will be received and counted to determine who will serve us next year.

We shall expect every Lion and his wife.

Very truly yours,
THOMAS I. ELLIOTT,
Secretary.

EASTERNER BUILDS HOME-MADE AIR RAID SHELTER

Howard Gounder and his air raid shelter

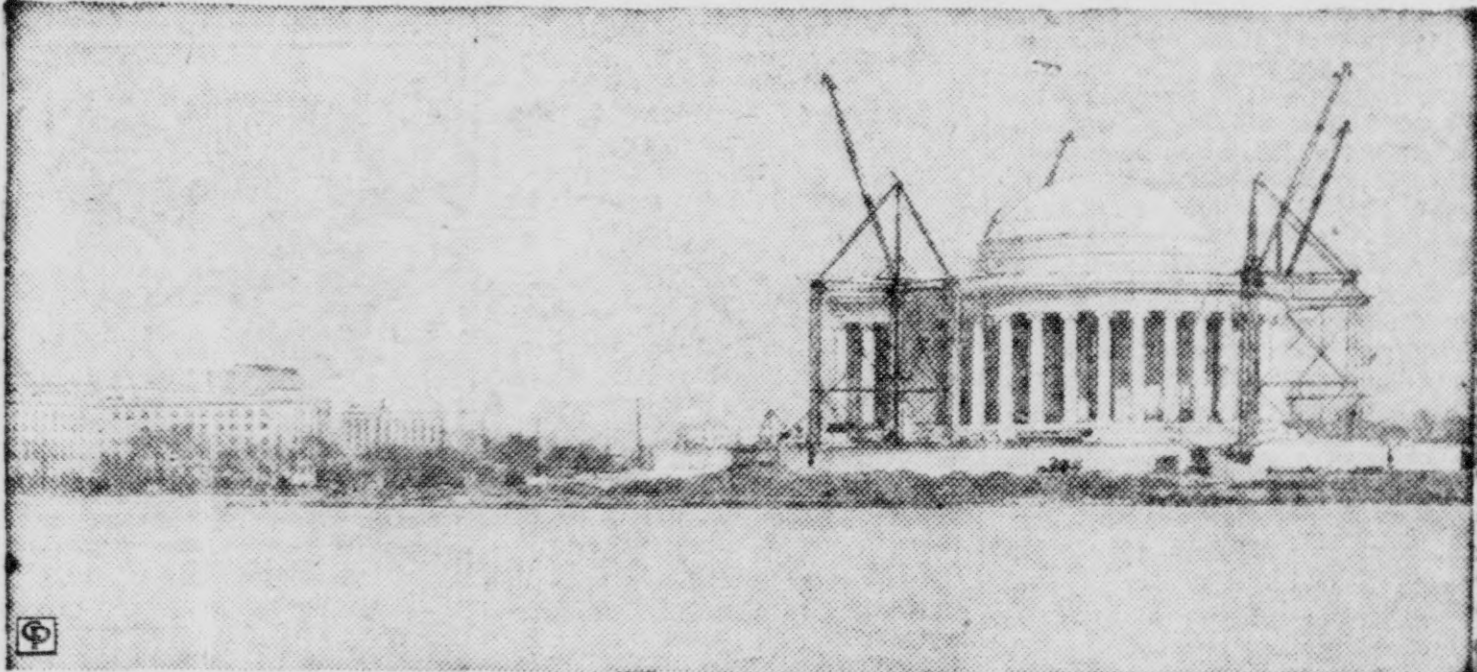

Howard Gounder, a retired novelty dealer living near Reading, Pa., has built the above air raid shelter of rocks found on his property. The shelter is built into a rocky hillside. The news from Europe and the fact that Gounder's home is on the direct air route from Philadelphia to Chicago has prompted him to build the shelter—the first home-made one of its kind, he believes, in the United States. He is shown at the door of the shelter.

French Mandated Syria—Target of RAF

JEFFERSON MEMORIAL RISES NEXT TO TIDAL BASIN

On a small peninsula on the southern shore of the Tidal Basin in Washington workmen are rapidly completing a great white structure that will stand as a memorial to Thomas Jefferson, third president of the United States and, perhaps, the leading defender of democracy. The memorial will be dedicated during the spring of 1943, the bicentennial of Jefferson's birth. In the photo above, the partially completed structure can be seen in the right foreground. On the left stands the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, and in the distance can be seen the dome of the Capitol.

It took eight hours for the first of 2,000 trucks, which carried the entire mechanized division of 18,000 men, to cover the 160 miles. They will go into maneuvers in Virginia. (Central Press)

A Rarity in the Equine World

Una Woodford, 16-year-old thoroughbred show mare, has good reason to be proud of her bouncing twin foals, an extreme rarity in the equine world. Una is owned by Lieut. Roger A. Young of White Plains, N. Y. The twins' sire is Kentucky My Own, a well-known five gaiter. (Central Press)

Home From Africa Helmet for Workers

Home—and glad of it—is Dr. Mary Cushman, 70, pictured above in Jersey City, N. J., as she was en route home to her native Farmington, Me. Dr. Cushman has spent the last 11 years in Africa.

War workers, too, wear helmets these days of high speed production for national defense. This worker in the Glenn L. Martin aircraft plant at Baltimore, Md., fashioning part of a bombing plane, has his face well protected from flying fragments as he operates a band saw.

STRIKE HALTS THIS ASSEMBLY LINE

This view of the North American Aviation plant in Inglewood, Cal., now halted by a strike for higher wages, shows a row of war planes for Britain near completion. A conference of United Automobile Workers (C. I. O.) officials with the striking workers interrupted the sessions in Washington of the Defense Mediation Board considering the strike.

Behind the Lines in Tennessee

Behind the fighting lines of an army are the medical and supply corps, as necessary to the soldiers as bullets. Top, is the mobile water purification unit, used during the army's extensive maneuvers in Tennessee. The unit can purify 100 gallons of water per minute. Bottom, soldiers bring in the first "casualty" of the great mock battle. (Central Press)

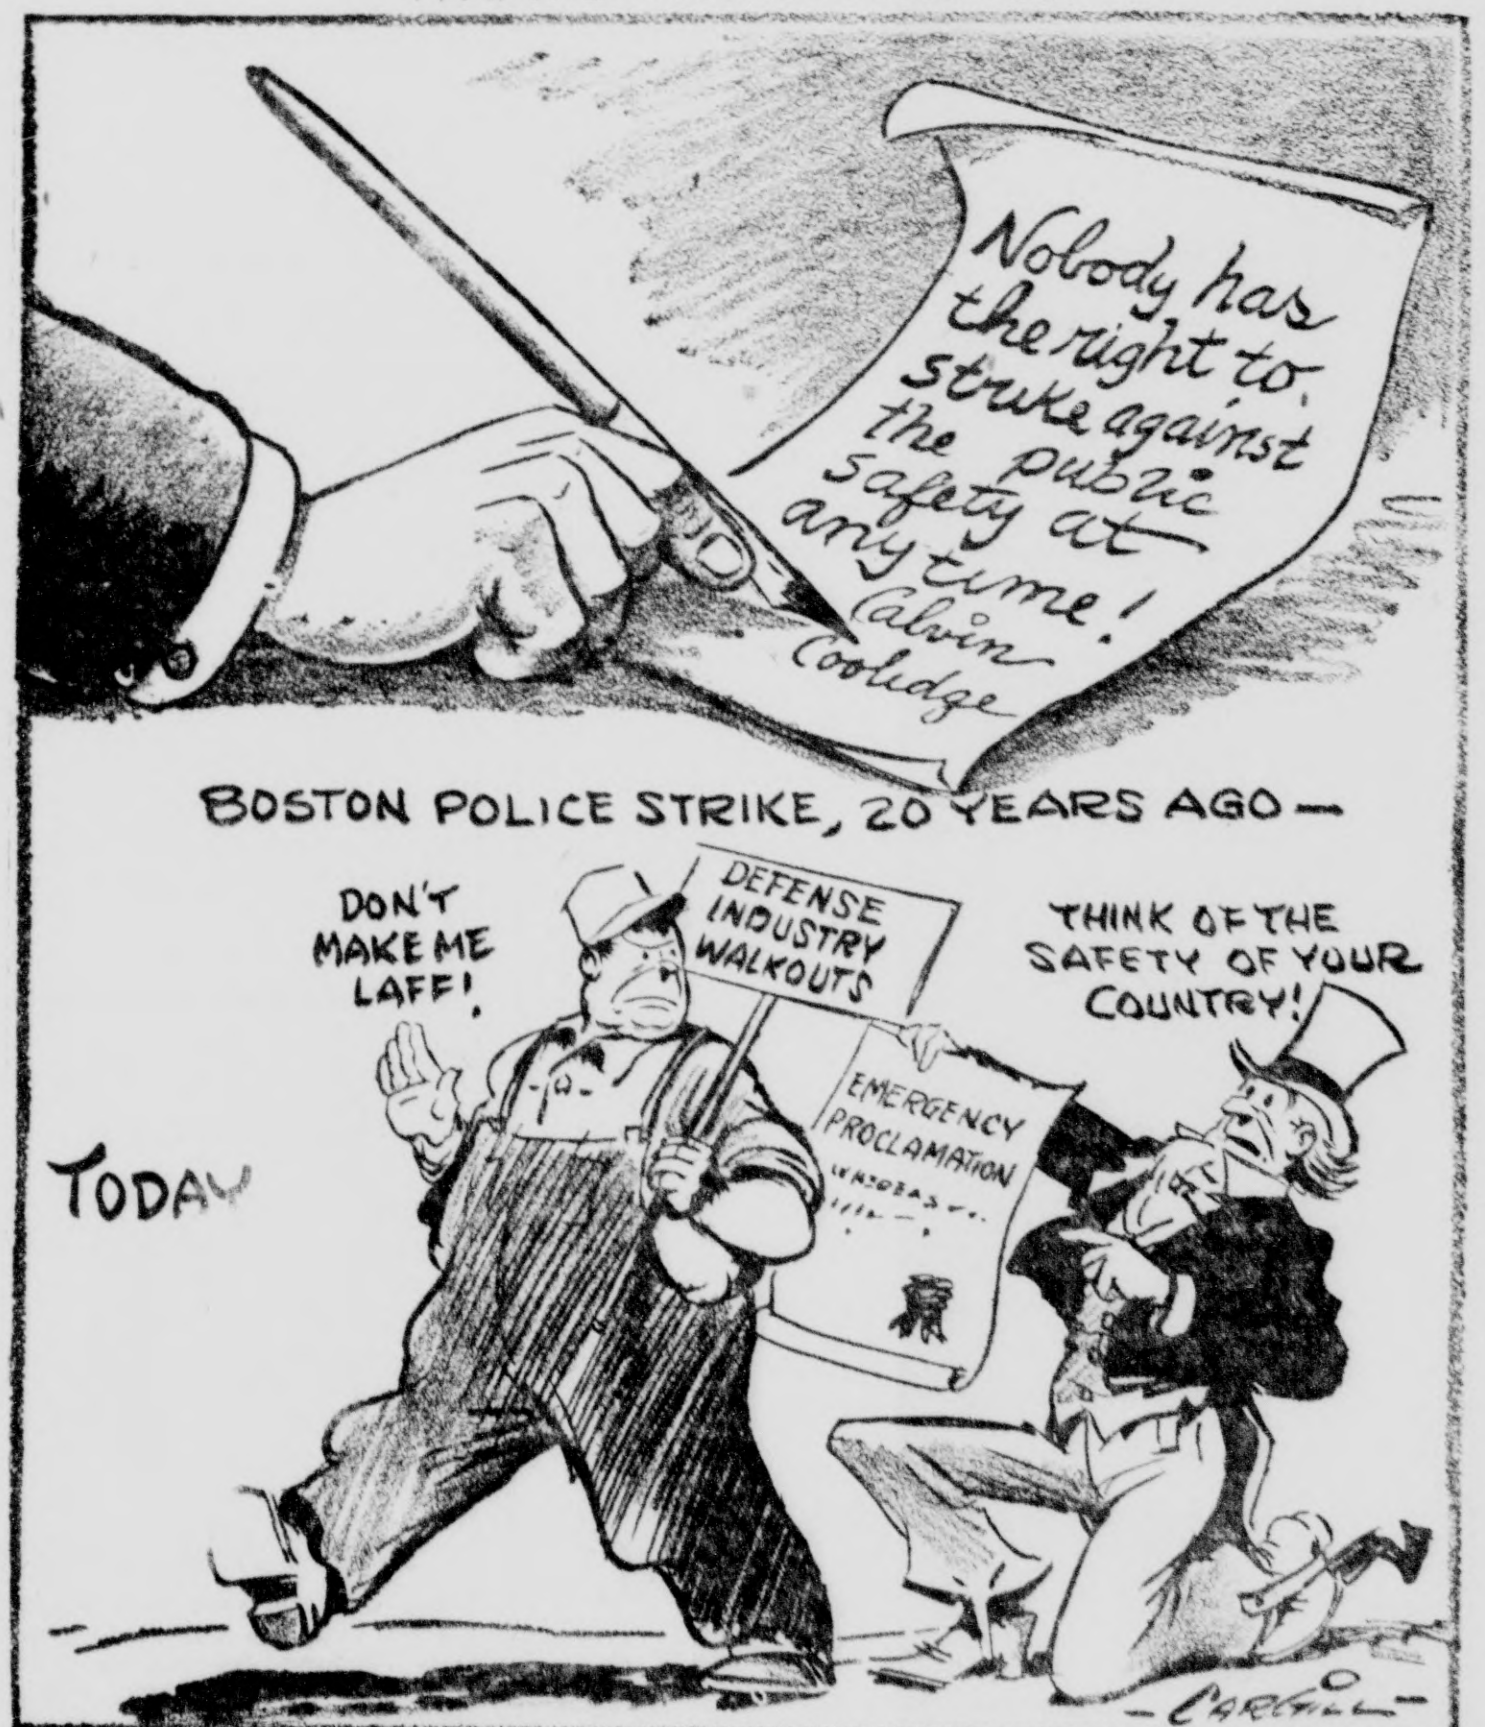

"FIGHTING 69TH" BATTLES TO REPEL "INVASION"

—Central Press Phonophoto

On the same dusty Tennessee roads over which Union and Confederate troops tramped to battle in the Civil war, the 165th Infantry, once New York's famous "Fighting 69th," moves up to the battlefront to repel an "invasion" from the Great Lakes area. Dusty and laden with full war equipment, they greatly resemble their predecessors of World War I. They are some of the thousands of soldiers participating in the maneuvers around Manchester, Tenn.

Sewell Is Star, Pirates Win Two

Sewell Not Only Pitches Well, But Fields Equally As Well In Polo Grounds Battle

FELLER HANGS UP HIS 12TH VICTORY

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 7.—We don't care to start a controversy about the respective pitching merits of the old timers and the modern crop. But we feel we are not going out on a limb in declaring that there are more real ball players among the moderns than there were among the old timers.

In the days of freak deliveries—spitters, emory ball, etc.—the pitcher could only pitch. He usually was a pushover at the plate and a clown in the field and he couldn't begin to play any other position.

What brought all this to mind particularly was the work of Truett Sewell of the Pirates who not only held the Giants to five hits in the second half of a doubleheader yesterday to win, 4-3, but set a new National league record for assists handed by a pitcher—11—and a new N. L. mark for total chances accepted—12. His assist figures also equal the American league mark.

Some of Sewell's chances were tough but he handled them all like a shortstop and they played a large part in helping him win. Two of the hits made off him were Mel Ott's 13th and 14th homers and, as everybody knows by this time, the little Giant gets a new National league record for lifetime homers every time he gets one.

Ott is the only Giant who is causing the pitchers any trouble. How futile the Giants are with the willow may be gleaned from the fact that they made only six hits off Max Baer in the opener which they dropped 5-4 as Bill McGee failed the Giants for the fifth straight time.

Lon Warneke, another ball playing pitcher, let the Braves down with six hits to score his sixth victory for the Cardinals, 3-1.

Feller Fans Eleven
And still another one, Bob Feller, walked nobody, fanned 11 and gave only four hits as the Indians downed the Athletics by this time, the little Red Sox won, 11-0.

The Red Sox hopped on Johnny Rigney for six runs in the first four innings to beat the White Sox, 6-3. Strangely enough, all the Red Sox runs were due to homers by Fox, Williams and Tabor.

And speaking of pitchers, the Senators should sue some of their for non-support. They gave Ken Chase a seven-run lead in three innings but the southpaw blew them all in one frame and the Tigers eventually won out, 11-8.

Reds Top Phils
That was all the games there were in daylight but at night Cincinnati's Johnny Vander Meer produced the best pitching performance on the slate when he chucked up a one-hitter as the Reds thumped Philadelphia, 7 to 0. Vandy fanned 12 batters. He missed repeating his no-hit throwing of 1939 when Danny Litwhiler got a scratch single on a bunt grounder that bounded off Eddie Joost's glove.

And Brooklyn's Dodgers maintained their grip on the National league lead by beating the Chicago Cubs, 4 to 1, under their new manager, Kirby Higbe, chalked up his sixth victory of the season, setting the Bruins down with five safeties.

IS STILL ACTIVE
Jack "Red" Murray, fleet-footed Cub and Giant outfielder, 30 years ago, is back in the game. Murray is an official of the American Baseball Congress in Elmhurst, New York. He is a recreation director there.

Four Good Games In Loop Sunday

West Side A. C. Will Play Lawrence Indies At Lee Avenue, Elders Battle Ryantown

There will be four good games on Sunday in the City baseball league, providing it doesn't rain. All Sunday games start at 2:30 o'clock.

The Lawrence Indies co-league leaders with the Elders will play the West Side A. C. at the Lee avenue field in what looks like the feature game on the menu, with Stewart trying to repeat his win over the Indies earlier in the season. It will be either Paul Morrison or Rainey on the hill for the 1940 champions.

Ryantown At Elders

The Elder A. C. co-league leaders with the Indies will battle the Ryantown team at Marshall field, and it will be Hartman trying to defeat his former mates, with Withrow or Gunnert getting the nod from Manager Joe O'Leary.

At the Clifton Flats field the Slovaks will play the Moose Club, and will pitch Janoski or Prybyski against Johns or Henderson. The West Pittsburgh "Gas House" game will travel to Cascade Field to oppose the Croton A. C. team, Manager Danny DeGenova will probably pitch either Lefty Tonsetti or Powell, and Manager Colacchia will have either Stone or Pepe on the hill. The West Pittsburgh team will try hard to get above that 500 average they have maintained, winning four and losing four.

The Lawrence Indies and West Side A. C. game was originally set for the Cedar street field, but owing to a carnival setting up tents on the lot, a change in the field had to be made, so it will be played at the Lee avenue field instead, it was agreed upon by Managers Johnny Russo and Len Gilbert.

Nova Winner By Kayo In Third

(International News Service)

MINNEAPOLIS, June 7.—Lou Nova, his left eye badly cut but a three round knockout victory over Jim Robinson of Philadelphia under his belt, today planned a vacation in the woods of northern Minnesota before beginning training for his title fight with Joe Louis in September.

The challenger knocked the big Philadelphia out in one minute and seventeen seconds of the third round last night, after taking a lacing the first two stanzas.

TED WILLIAMS HITTING HARD

Ted Williams, rocky Boston Red Sox outfielder, is way out front among American league hitters.

Williams, who made life miserable for American Association league pitchers, is doing likewise in the big top. As of yesterday, Williams was sporting an impressive 434 mark. Joe Cronin, manager of the Red Sox, was second with 373 clip. "Bill" Diekey of the Yanks followed with 369.

SHORTIES PLUCKED OUT OF THE SPORTS WHIRL

Joe DiMaggio's recent inconsistency in the outer garden can be traced to a sore throat which has been bothering him for the past week and a half.

Teddy Lyons, nearing the rocking chair and pipe age, still can toss the pill across the platter. The White Sox vet has stroled but nine men so far this season.

JOHN BARNHILL, WHO TOOK OVER AS TENNESSEE COACH WHEN BOB NEYLAND CROWLED INTO A KHAKI, SAYS HE'LL CONTINUE USING THE MAJOR'S FORMULA

If the system works anything like it did for Neyland, pity the Vols' foes.

The defense program will absorb a lot of star gridders during the balmy days. Many coaches fear that the jobs may be so good that their boys may not want to leave by pigskin kicking time.

THE MAJORS WOULD AFFECT THE MAJORS FINANCIALLY ONLY

The novelty of watching the big timers display their adroitness under the lights has meant thousands of dollars. The big top has managed to make ends meet all these years without night ball. With more jobs around and interest increasing every 24 hours, the majors will continue to flourish at the old stand. The poor minor leaguers may have to suffer the aches.

UNLESS OUR FIGURES ARE COCK-EYED

The Cubs have yet to whip the New York Giants this season. The Terry-men have copped five in a row. The same situation exists between the Cards and Pirates, or are we wrong? The books show eight straight for the Cards, Brooklyn is having a royal holiday at the expense of the Phillies and Braves. The Dodgers own nine wins over the Phils and five over the Braves, with nary a setback.

If you still think the Pittsburgh Pirates have a chance to win the flag, Jack Doyle, the czar of book makers, will lay 30 to 1. Any takers?

The New York Giants have installed a new device on the score board which chucks up all hits, runs and errors. Just wondering if Terry marked up an error when he grabbed "Fiddler" McGee?

New Castle Will Have Group Qualifying For Right To Represent District

Local golfers wishing to compete in the 36-hole qualifying tournament, must have their entries in his hands tomorrow, as they must be placed with District U. S. G. A. representative Joe Platt, of Pittsburgh, by 5 p. m., Monday.

Four Tied For Lead In Open

Little, Shute, Heafner And Wood All Have Good Chance To Grab Title Today

(International News Service)

COLONIAL CLUB, Fort Worth, Tex., June 7.—Lew Little, broad-backed California power house, today still travelled the trail toward a possible successful defense of the 72 hole national open golf championship.

But he was hemmed in on all sides and by nightfall when the final 36 holes will have been completed any one of a dozen contestants may be wearing the crown and pocketing the top prize money.

Playing in thick Black Texas sunbaked left by rains such as seldom before have visited this event in the 45 years of its history. Little poured a 71 at the field yesterday as a follow-up to his opening day 73 for a two-day total of 144 and a deadlock with Clayton Heafner, the big North Carolinian, Craig Wood, the Masters title holder, and Denny Shute, the dark horse with the greying mane.

Slight more than two months remain until the runners come. Yes, folks, Clyde Shofa, secretary of the New Castle Fair, and Joe Rick, who arranges the race program, intends to have three running races on several of the afternoons during the fair which will be held August 19, 20 and 21. In addition, Shofa asserted, there'll be trots and paces each afternoon. A mile race also may be staged. With industrial conditions here on the pick-up, indications are the crowds will be better.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL

It's over and all the shouting has been given out. Today they are alumni of the Dear Old High School . . . looking for jobs and waiting to have fun in these great United States.

Be kind to strangers, old people and everybody . . . it costs so little to smile that no one can afford not to do it. Let's make this a friendly town . . . Lieutenant Thomas Jones of the city police force believes in it, he took an aged lady by the arm and helped her cross Washington street at the intersection of Mercer . . . if you believe, and he believes it, then we can have a friendly town.

I've killed more men than all the wars, though frightful they have been, I've ruined more lives, and wrecked more homes than drink or plague has seen. I've spared no one, the rich, the poor, they're all alike to me, The young, the old, the weak, the strong, whatever they may be.

I lost my shadow everywhere, in city, town or farm, You'll always find me lurking, round and about, I can do most harm; Even the little tots at school, so innocent and gay, I've stricken by my power, because they crossed my way.

In aeroplanes, in motor cars, or on the ships at sea, At home, or in some foreign land—it's all the same to me, Widows and orphans know me well, I've caused them many a pain, And you can take my word for it, I'll do the same again.

Yet, strange to say, my strength is known, they've printed signs "LOOK OUT!" for me and other things, BUT NO ONE SEEMS TO CARE.

So I go on my merry way, whilst others pay the cost, And every day, and every hour, through me some lives are lost.

A prince of robbers too I am, in fact I have no peer, I steal more than three hundred million dollars each year, I give to none, I take from all, I crush, I maim, I kill, And do my work relentlessly and also with much skill, Millions of cripples have I made, to ALL I bring distress, This is my daily work in life—my name is CARELESSNESS!

Market Resumes Upward Trend

Paced By Special Issues, Market Continues Higher As Week-end Approaches

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 7.—Paced by special issues, the stock market resumed its advance today in small trading.

Gains ran to more than 3 points in Jones & Laughlin preferred on the company's plans to pay off arrears.

The improvement in stocks, however, was overshadowed by a new uprush in commodities. Wheat was in the van with a rise of over 2 cents a bushel to new highs for the season.

In addition to Jones & Laughlin preferred, gains of over a point were scored by International Paper preferred, American Locomotive preferred, Union Carbide and DuPont. There were several new highs.

Steel shares strengthened, with Bethlehem, Crucible and U. S. Steel gaining nearly a point each.

The motor shares firmed as other auto makers followed the price advances announced by Chrysler a few days ago.

Dow Chemical, a late opener, spurred 2 points.

Union Pacific was backward in an otherwise steady market for rails. Oils were firm, and mail orders improved. Coppers scored fractional gains, and U. S. Gypsum was up almost a point in the building shares. Utilities sagged.

The bond market was quiet and dull. Rails were steady. U. S. Government bonds were unchanged, while the foreign section was at a standstill.

The curb market turned upward on a fairly broad front in today's abbreviated session. Gains ran from 1/8 to 1/4 point, with a few points in some of the preferred issues. Trading was moderately active for a Saturday.

Lawrence County Rural Youth Can Enroll At State College Center

Much has been accomplished during the past year by the National Youth Administration for Pennsylvania, in extending the resident work center program for boys. Sixteen centers including boys and girls are now in operation. The most recent ones to open are at California, Washington county, Mauch Chunk county and Wilkes-Barre in Luzerne county.

These centers offer varied experiences in working with machines. Each center has a part of its set-up, well equipped shops to furnish these job experiences. Here youth are gaining experience in machine shop practice, sheet metal work, tool making, aviation mechanics, auto mechanics, and electric and acetylene welding.

As each youth gets this practical experience, related training courses sponsored by the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction are set up by local school authorities. Such a plan will be followed in the New Castle Boys' Resident Center, now in the course of construction at Cunningham Park in New Castle. Related training including mathematics, blueprint reading, drawing, etc., will be set up by Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, New Castle. Youth will thus be given a well-rounded experience which will better fit them for defense industry work.

According to Mrs. Olive Hewitt, Lawrence County N. Y. A. supervisor, all recruiting for resident centers is done through the offices of the various county supervisors throughout the state. If a youth is interested in entering any of the various resident centers and can meet the requirements, said youth can gain access to such center only through the N. Y. A. office of the county of which he or she may be a resident. At present, Mrs. Hewitt stated she is particularly interested in youth for the State College Resident Work Center which specializes in experience in agricultural pursuits. Here the related training is sponsored by the Pennsylvania State college.

In a recent visit to this center, Mrs. Hewitt found a most satisfactory setup and feels that work being done here is outstanding, and that Lawrence county rural youth can have unusual advantages at the State College center.

The center buildings have been erected adjacent to the regular college building and are well equipped for the comfort and welfare of the residents. The dormitories are well planned and cared for, offering every advantage necessary to making a real home atmosphere.

In several instances youth who began with the National Youth Administration Resident Center were able to arrange to enter the regular four-year course leading to a degree in agriculture.

Mrs. Hewitt is interested in seeing at once any youth interested in agriculture in order that some Lawrence county youth may be included in the next group to enter this center. She will be glad to discuss this center with which she is very familiar, because of having the privilege of visiting here recently and thus becoming acquainted with its director and his staff.

Lawrence county youth may get information regarding any resident center in the state by calling at the Lawrence county office, located in the W. N. Aiken school building at 226 Pearson street, New Castle, Pa. Here, also, application blanks may be obtained.

AROUND CITY HALL

Life-boat owned by the city police department is in readiness to be hauled anywhere a water accident occurs. . . . Some of the police already have purchased new uniforms which will arrive here soon. . . . City painters Friday painted safety lines at Washington Street intersections. "Keep within the lines" is the order of police. . . . Police who desire to take lessons in first aid from Red Cross tutors may do so free of charge. Firemen recently took and passed the examination. . . . The "no tootin'" ordinance, introduced at the behest of Mayor Charles B. Mayne, if enforced, will result in some motorists paying fines to the city for blowing auto sirens unnecessarily.

Motorists who get up late in the morning and speed demon-like to work may find themselves in the tools on either a charge of speeding or reckless driving when police get a new car. . . . Judging from the number of tags handed out by traffic police those who violate parking meter laws are many. . . . With school out it no longer will be necessary for police to act as safety guards in the vicinity of schools. On Monday the public utilities commission in city hall will hear the petition of the New Castle Railway company to abandon car service and also consider an application by the Shenango Valley Motor Transportation company to operate buses here.
